TPB

mytravelHIT Ltd brings to the world of travel with travelplanbooker.com an OTA, only and fully online. We act as intermediary and you use for your work a B to C platform. You as independent, or your travel office or your consulting company can use travelplanbooker.com as an all in one planning, searching, selecting, booking, payment website platform together with the clients. Consultants can demonstrate, show, offer, help to book customers a complete, linked travel arrangement.

The web or travel specialised websites offer a flood of travel information regarding flights, hotels, activities. They also allow for information and Silo bookings. They also have pre-set travel offers or contracted flights and hotels. Planning and recommending a trip or a comprehensive travel itinerary is therefore often a stressful and time consuming matter. Your customer has ideas or intention and you need to find a pre-packaged or pre-sold package and convince him, that this is the best for him.

This is where we can help by simplifying travel planning and selection, booking for the customers massively with our "all in one" travelplanbooker.com system. You also have the possibility to work together with the customers on the desired travel plan.

Consultants can share the travel planning with the customer by share your screen.

On travelplanbooker.com customers can arrange the entire trip comfortably and stress-free and with less time spent. Plan, select, book transportation, accommodation as well as rental cars and attractions on just one website. Compare the different options of suppliers based on the current, on line time based prices and look at the best offers. At the same time, travelplanbooker provides customers with information about the desired destination and thus replace a printed travel guide. Help to create the travel of the customers dreams and make yourself a good extra pay.

You want to communicate while planning directly with the customer. Set up two screens in your home office, or your office and the customer sits at home and “share your screen” with the customers. Travelplanbooker offers this feature. Customers have a good view of all attractions, availabilities can decide with you together, if it should be a five star hotel to relax and enjoy or an airport hotel at reasonable costs to just stay over. The short flight they might choose in economy with a low cost carrier and the long duration flight in business or first class. They can decide together with you and match the costs with their wishes and desires. Well, what can your customer see in Paris. So many things to enjoy! With all information and pictures at your fingertips online. On travelplanbooker.com you enjoy a planning page with map and routes, itinerary and calendar. It is easy to make recommendations and you consult with your know how, you let the customer select and you help them to book and pay.
